

Training

All operators working in harnesses production are qualified in accordance to the following procedure an introductory course dealing with subjects related to wires and wiring work (classroom training) at least 4 months of on-the-job training a course leading to an exam qualifying the operator to carry out special processes and critical activities (classroom training) after qualification, all operators are subject to regular audits to maintain the status